MMV - MMVI · YEARBOOK

LOYOLA · UNIVERSITY · CHICAGO

Dear Fall 2005 – Spring 2006 Alumni
of the John Felice Rome Center,

We are certain that you will turn to this book often in future years as you prepare for a Rome Center reunion, get together to reminisce with former classmates, or even introduce your spouse-to-be to this special period of growth and adventure in your past. The following pages will evoke times of challenge, triumph, awe, and frustration that have contributed powerfully to the person you have become. You have been changed for good—more knowledgeable, more confident, more mature and, most of all, richer by dozens of friendships that will last a lifetime. You have dared to risk and to grow with those friends in ways that have cemented your care and respect for one another. At the same time, you have enriched the lives of the faculty and staff, for which we thank you sincerely. We hope that you soon will come back home to Rome and to the John Felice Rome Center.

Arrivederci!

The Baby Shower

When Grace Knauff arrived at the Rome Center there was something special that set her apart from her classmates, Grace was two months pregnant. Grace had an amazing semester, while gaining the support and friendship of all her JFRC classmates. In fact, her classmates threw her a beautiful babyshower!!!

Dear Everyone at the Rome Center, March 3, 2006
 How is Everybody? I miss JFRC more than I thought I would! Well I finally had my baby on February 3 at 6:30 in the morning after 12 hours of hell! She was 11lbs. 9oz and 19 inches long. So now we can finally see who was in there this whole time. She is so much fun and she is very fashionable. I know a lot of the kids who were there are not there now, but because of the generous baby shower collection I recieved, I was able to easily afford a brand new crib, which you can kind of see in the background, a tiny bit. I wish I could thank each person who helped with that - especially SLA LIZ! - because it was so nice and I was so surprised. I wish I could just bring my baby out there and chill with everyone! By the way we named her Reina Rosemary and she's so fin. My parents are obsessed with her and her father (still my boyfriend) is lovely and supportive and great with her, so that's good. Everything is going good here and I wanted to thank everyone at the JFRC who was so understanding and awesome about my situation. David, the nicest porter ever, who helped me so much, Liz, my SLA who looked out for me, Rinaldo and Nella for making me food every day, Mensa people, Todd and Lorenza for being so open, Farmer (handler) for being so generous and understanding - just everyone! Everyone made it so comfortable and nice for me to be there which I did not expect and it was just such a good experience and great for me to be away from home while the shack sunk in for my parents! I will never forget JFRC and maybe Reina will get to study here one day when Todd is old and gray! Just kidding Grace

WORLD SERIES

CHAMPIONS

They Gawn - White Sox win it all while loyal fans study in Rome.

"The Sox winning the series was definitely bittersweet. I would have loved to be home and at the games to see it happen, but we did have a great time watching the games with each other, cheering, and sharing champagne at the end."

- Tom Farnell

"Of course I would have loved to be in Chicago for the games, but I think that we made the best out of the situation here. There was a great group of guys to watch the games with and celebrate, and we kept the Sox spirit alive, even from thousands of miles away."

- Nick Del Priore

D & D group

When Adam Beattie was packing to come to Rome, he brought something with him that most people would not have. He brought Dave Arneson's MMRPG, a Massively Multiplayer Role Playing Game, Blackmoor. Blackmoor is a version of Dungeons and Dragons which was also created by Arneson. Adam recruited six people to play the game, Britton Cuffie, Trey Ridlin, Lisa Waldschmidt, Phil Cordaro, Rose Hernandez, and Lauren Girard. Each of these people then chose what race, class, age, height, weight, what weapons and special attributes they had. For instance, Lauren was a High Thonian Paladin, 18 years old, six feet tall, weighing 170 pounds with green eyes and brown hair. She also had a longsword, armor, light war horse, could detect if a person was evil, and could smite evil once a day. Britton was a "Merchant", or actually a Sorcerer, which is illegal in the world of Blackmoor. Trey was a Rogue, Lisa was a Ranger, Phil was a Monk, and Rose was a Cleric. All had their own abilities that helped to make the group a cohesive whole, allowing them to work well together. This group was headed by Adam Beattie who acted as a kind of moderator, telling the story and filling in all the other characters along the way. He brought these people to a world away from their normal lives where helping others was their main goal in life. In Blackmoor, becoming a hero is what motivates you to overcome all the trials of life.

- contributed by Lauren Girard.

Ladies and Gentlemen, we proudly present...

Lindsey Jamieson and Basil Salem...it wouldn't be a JFRC Talent Show unless someone sang a song about life on the compound!

Pat Hicks... A True Master of Ceremonies

A Great Tradition continues as Sereen Barakt, Laura Anderson, Allison Costa, Denise Feniello, Leslee Heinlen, and Salua Baida mesmerize the crowd with their belly dancing!

Rose Hernandez fulfills a semester long wish of throwing something in Todd's Face!

Lorna Riggle shows that size isn't what matters most, Not even close!

* The TALENT SHOW *

Liz Hoelscher and Robyn Russell show the audience how NOT to travel, especially when flying RyanAir!

Nidhi Soni dazzles the crowd with some traditional Indian Dance!

The JFRC Choir, led by Dr. Edwards, puts the final touches on the evening and proves that we are indeed all in a "Roma State of Mind!"

SLA Mike demonstrates one of his many talents as he tickles some ivory!

There is a place called the JFRC
We call it the compound
And we live and we sleep, we study and eat
And now I just wanna get out

There is a place called the Mensa
We eat there twice a day
They serve us our food and we say "grazie"
And then our stomachs pay

There is a place called Rinaldo's
It's where we drink café
We can play ping pong or fussball
And see Nella and Rinaldo everyday

There is a man named Todd Waller
He is the Associate Dean
He screams and he scowls, does he have too much power?
He's the head of a murderous regime

There is a place called the JFRC
The hallways smell like bleach
But that's okay, it's where we stay
And now we don't wanna leave

John Felice Tribute

John Felice was born on the tiny, historic island of Malta in 1923. At 82 years young, after two open heart surgeries and three pacemaker implants, he is still active and has become a legend among those who know him. Founder of the John Felice Rome Center and its principal force for many years, he retired in 1998 at the age of 75. Felice readily remembers his childhood in Malta as a mischievous child known very affectionately as "a little devil". With the declaration of World War II and not yet 18, Felice enlisted in the British Armed Forces. Malta was heavily bombarded, which caused tremendous destruction and loss of life. To escape, many people took refuge underground for long periods of time without the basic necessities of life. When the American forces came to the Mediterranean, Felice was transferred to General Patton's headquarters and later participated in the North African campaign and the invasion of Sicily. It was then that he first came into contact with Americans who were serving under General Patton. He remembers their keen interest and desire to learn as much as possible about the art and history of the Mediterranean world, since the United States was still a new country with a relatively short history. It was then that he first felt called to work with young people to develop these interests and foster a deeper friendship and appreciation between them and his native Europe. This, he thought, would be the best way to thank the Americans for the help they were giving Europe in its quest for freedom and liberty.

After the war ended, Felice joined the Society of Jesus and was ordained in the United States. Destiny favored him in 1958, when he began teaching at Loyola University Chicago. Within two years, in 1960, he took his first group of young Americans for a six-week bus tour of Europe. The following summer 68 young teachers from the Chicago area participated in a two month tour of Europe designed to compare educational systems. They visited eight major universities in Europe as well as the major capitals. On this tour he discussed and developed the idea of an American university campus in Rome, Italy. During a meeting with the President of Italy and the American Ambassador, Clare Boothe Luce, he proposed the idea, which was greeted with much enthusiasm and support from both the President and the Ambassador. Loyola's President, Father James Maguire, SJ, also an enthusiastic supporter, insisted that the pioneer group have at least 60 students to start out. The Rome Center, the first overseas program of its kind in that era, opened its doors to 90 students in January 1962, and Felice began his lifelong career and mission of guiding and shaping the futures of many young adults - turning them into broad-minded men and women willing, in turn, to lead, shape and serve society. Today, 44 years later, he is still an enthusiastic presence on campus, well-loved by the student body, always willing to share stories and help young people better understand the world in which they live.

John & Kate Felice share their JFRC memories with Marcelo Maiorano.

Receiving his Doctor of Humane Letters in 1996.

Dean John Felice in 1980.

"In a frantic search to find accommodations for my brother during his first European experience, I ran into John Felice one morning and started a conversation. When I mentioned my situation, he immediately took me in his car to some of his many friends in the area. Within twenty minutes of telling Sig. Felice my dilemma he had gotten my brother a room in the nicest Bed & Breakfast I have seen in Europe. It is because of things like this that everyone I have ever spoken with in regards to John Felice always breaks into the widest smile possible."

About V-Day

V-Day, a non-profit corporation, distributes funds to grassroots, national, and international organizations and programs that work to stop violence against women and girls.

V-Day is a global movement to stop violence against women and girls. V-Day is a catalyst that promotes creative events to increase awareness, raise money and revitalize the spirit of existing anti-violence organizations. V-Day generates broader attention for the fight to stop violence against women and girls, including rape, battery, incest, female genital mutilation (FGM) and sexual slavery.
