May God bless you and keep you always.
May your wishes all come true.
May you always do for others, and let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the skies,
And climb on every rung.
And may you stay forever young.
Loyola University of Chicago was founded in 1870. Recognizing the need for a strong medical school, Loyola affiliated itself with Illinois Medical College in 1909 and with Bennet and Reliance Medical Colleges the following year. In 1915, control of this loose organization passed to the University trustees and became the Loyola University School of Medicine.

A home for Loyola’s medical school was chosen in 1917 with the purchase of the old Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery building at South Walcott Avenue across the street from Cook County Hospital. Loyola’s efforts to improve its medical school facilities were limited by a lack of funds until the late 1940s when Samuel Cardinal Stritch lent his name to an annual fund-raising dinner that has become the main source of continuous financial support for the medical school. In his honor, Loyola renamed its medical school: the Stritch School of Medicine.

Several sites were considered before the University decided to build its medical center in Maywood adjacent to the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital. Official construction of the Loyola University Medical Center began in 1965 and by 1969 the new medical school was in operation.

As demand for medical care has grown, Loyola has risen to the challenge. The first patients walked through the doors of the new Mulcahy Outpatient Center in 1981. In 1986 a new nine-story building, the Russo Surgical Pavilion was added to the medical complex. That same year, Loyola was designated as a Level I Trauma Center for the State of Illinois. Two years later, the Lifestar Helicopter Emergency Medical System became operational. This was followed by the completion of Loyola’s state-of-the-art Emergency Care Facility in 1991.

The 125,000 square-foot Cancer Center opened in 1994 and was later renamed the Cardinal Bernardin Cancer Center in 1996 in honor of the late Joseph Cardinal Bernardin who received his medical care at Loyola University Medical Center. The new Stritch School of Medicine building opened in August of 1997 at the cost of more than $45 million. By November, the new school was joined by the Loyola University Center for Health and Fitness.

The continuous growth and improvement of the Loyola University Medical Center has resulted in the fulfillment of Samuel Cardinal Stritch’s dream: the creation of a major Catholic medical center dedicated to serving the ever changing needs of the community.

I speak of journeys because of course we are all on journeys ourselves. The comparison of life to a road is a very ancient one, and you and I are travelers along that road whether we think of it that way or not, traveling from the unknown into the unknown... When we are on a journey, what is real is not so much the role we play, the mask we wear, in the place that we are leaving, and not even the roles we will soon be called on to play when we get to the place where we are going. Instead, what becomes increasingly real as we travel along is something much closer to the actual face that lies behind all the masks and that gives a kind of relative unity to all the different parts that our life demands that we play. In other words, travel can be a very unmasking experience, bringing us suddenly face to face with ourselves - as when we are gazing out of a train window at the endless line of telegraph poles whipping by, and we find that part of what we are looking at is our own reflection... DREAM BIG

If there were ever a time to care, to make a difference, to embark on something worth doing, it is now.

Not for any grand cause necessarily—but for something that tugs at your heart, something that’s your aspiration, something that is your dream.

You owe it to yourself to make your days here count.

Have fun.

Dig deep.

Stretch.

Dream Big.

Know though that things worth doing seldom come easy.

There will be good days, and there will be bad days.

There will be times when you want to turn around, pack it up, and call it quits.

Those times tell you that you are pushing yourself, that you are not afraid to learn by trying.

Persist.

Because with an idea, determination, and the right tools, you can do great things.

Let your intellect, and your heart guide you.

Trust.

Believe in the incredible power of the human mind.

Of something that makes a difference.

Of working hard.

Of laughing and hoping.

Of lazy afternoons.

Of lasting friendships.

Of all the things that will cross your path this year.

The start of something new brings hope of something great.

Anything is possible.

There is only one you.

You will pass this way only once.

Do it right.
Jessica Matthews, M.D.
To laugh often and much:
To win the respect of intelligent people
and the affection of children:
To earn the appreciation of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends:
To appreciate beauty:
To find the best in others:
To leave the world a bit better,
whether by a healthy child,
a redeemed social condition,
or a job well done:
To know even one life has breathed easier
Because you have lived:
This is to have succeeded. —Ralph Waldo Emerson

A WINNER’S CREED
If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don’t;
If you’d like to win, but think you can’t,
It’s almost a cinch you won’t.

If you think you’ll lose, you’re lost;
For out in the world we find success begins with a person’s faith;
It’s all in the state of mind.

Life’s battles don’t always go to the stronger or faster hand;
They go to the one who trusts
In God and always thinks “I CAN.”

They came to Loyola, to be Docs were their goals, They gave it their all, their hearts and their souls, They studied together, "Just friends," so they said, And two short years later they were happily wed.

God brought them together to work as a team, We'll love and support them, As they follow their dream, Lucky are the patients whose lives they will touch, Because they're both willing to give so much.

Congratulations to Drs. David and Liza DeWitt!
From your loving families,

SCOTTO -
Your patients will wait in long lines, as well they might; For the doctor of the next century is up late many nights. Such care and compassion is richly fueled by this school's passion. Oh, God had a plan when He sent you down, "Tend to My children, and keep your feet on the ground.” ‘Tis only a mother's heart could contain today's pride; As, only He could make you "you” inside.

God bless you and all you will do -
Mom

CONGRATULATIONS, SCOTT A. PAWLIKOWSKI

Congratulations, Andrew

Hooray- you got there! You have so much to be proud of and we are all so very proud of you. As you set out, we wish you a heart filled with compassion while your mind and hands bring healing in God’s world.

We love you,
Your Whole Family

O Timothy Tim is finally a doc. He's really a doc, that Timothy Tim. How far he's come, and how well he has done- We always knew, O Timothy Tim.

All our love.
Mom. Dad, Lisa and Brian

Congratulations Carl and Class of 2000

Now well we remember the days when you carried Grandpa's doctor bag everywhere with you and tucked it beside you as you sped off in your play ambulance. You were as enthusiastic and determined then as you are today.
You have always worked extremely hard to achieve your goals and we are so very proud of you.
May life continue to be an incredible journey for you and Melissa in your future careers as physicians.
You have always been a blessing to us and we wish you a lifetime of success, peace and happiness.

With much love and pride,
Mom, Dad, Kate,
Grandma, Grandpa and Nanna
Before you could walk and talk we recognized the uniqueness in you. Your eyes, your smile, your quiet demeanor set you apart. We loved you and supported you from day one. What you have become and what you have earned! We are so proud of what you have achieved.

Congratulations
Dr. Andrea Teresa DiMichele

Love Always,
Mom and Dad

Dear Keith,
When I snapped this photo of you in May '87, instead of "say cheese" I asked you to show me your soul. I admit it is one of my favorite photos of you. Pride in building your first campfire and finding joy in a most unusual camping trip in Yosemite, gave us as a family an increased respect for you. May your patients see the beauty of your soul, find joy in their dealing with you even in unusual situations and develop a deep respect for you. May God be with you, now and forever!

Congratulations!!
Dr. Keith A. Lopatk

Love from Mom, Camper Man, Mum, Grandma May and Thomas

Congratulations Mike!

Your hard work and dedication has paid off, and you are going to be an asset to your profession.
Continue to listen to your heart and you will be guided in the right direction.
We are very proud of you and your accomplishments.

May God bless you and be with you always

Love Mom and Jeff

To our very own
"THAT GIRL!"
Dr. Rebecca Ann Ruhana

You always could "do it myself" and we are so proud of you!

Love,
Dad, Mom, George & Kim
Congratulations to the Class of 2000 and our son, Johnny. Our pride and love are boundless. May God's grace be your guide.

All our love,
Mom, Dad, Peter and Tony

THE FUTURE DR. ROMAN LANGSTON

Looking back at all of the wonderful memories....

...and looking forward to all of the future ones.

Congratulations Julie & Phil on your Graduation!
We are so very proud of you both. With love from the Goodman & Favia families

Dr. Laura Breen Sullivan Ozark

Where are you going, my little one, little one
Where are you going, my baby, my own?
Turn around and you're tiny
Turn around and you're grown,
Turn around, you're a young wife
With a babe of your own.
Where are you going, my baby, my own?

If a thing is worth doing, it's worth doing well...
And you have! Go Girl!!
Love, Mom and Bob

With Our Love! Congratulations!
Oceans are forever scenes of turbulence, rage, and grief. Yet the magnificent beauty and depth create such moments beyond belief. So when inescapable waves of frustration and doubt draw near, overpower them with your faith and courage, then somehow they disappear. And when currents of obstacles hover, persevere and renew trust over and over. Soon treasures of growth and patience are found, struggles and strife are gone. Happiness splashes over the splendid horizon, the dainty sea shell whispers, "well done."

Congratulations, Mia
Love, Mom and Dad

From your first graduation from St. Peter & Paul and through the years at Benet Academy, The University of Chicago, and the Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine...
You have always made us PROUD!

Congratulations Dr. Johanna Lange
Your Mom & Dad

Congratulations! Dr. Chandra Wiewel

For our very special daughter & sister.

In childhood, it was the love and attention you bestowed on your stuffed animals, and always with your family and friends, your caring ways have defined who you are. So, it's no surprise that your career has led you to care for others through family medicine. We are very proud of you!! We wish you all the best and a future of continued success and happiness!!

Love, Dad, Mom, Dana, Janine and Daniel

To the best dad, husband, brother and son a family could ask for. We are all very proud of you!

Dear Dad,
We're so happy to hear you'll be getting some more "patience!"
Love,
Tommy & Casey

The Caduceus staff would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to the many people who helped us put this book together.

Thanks . . .

To our advisor Dean Michael Lambesis for effectively screening the photos and keeping us on track.
To Phyllis Curran & Toni Birch for collecting photos and putting up with all of our antics.
To Christine Wonka for providing the technical support and working with us.
To Oscar Izquierdo and Medical Photography for the many photos of departments and our campus.

. . . and to all of our classmates for putting up with copious amounts of e-mail and for sharing so many of the wonderful photographs you’ve collected over the past four years.

The Loyola Stritch Class of 2000 would also like to thank the following departments for their continued support of the Caduceus:

Anesthesiology  CMB & Anatomy  Family Medicine
Medicine  Micro & Immunology  Neurosurgery
Neurology  Obsetetrics & Gynecology  Orthopedic Surgery
Pathology  Preventive Medicine and Epidemiology  and Rehabilitation
Pharmacology  Surgery  Physiology
Pediatrics  Dean of Students  Urology

St. Luke the Beloved Physician
Stained Glass Window located in the lobby of the medical school

The central figure is St. Luke, the patron saint of medicine. His robe is green, the symbolic color of both life and medicine. The red heart in the center of his chest not only represents God's love and love for others, but also symbolizes biology and physiology. The red staff of Aesculapius in his left hand is an ancient Greek and Roman symbol of healing. The figure's prominent hands symbolize caring for others, community and society through public health initiative. St. Luke is walking down a yellow gravel path that represents the golden path of life.

St. Luke's eyes direct the viewer to panels on the left which are comprised of symbols of core clinical and basic science disciplines. These include a mortar and pestle representing pharmacology and pharmacy, the Greek word "hygia" symbolizing public health and hygiene, a scalpel for surgery, forceps for obstetrics and gynecology, a tube used as an early stethoscope for medicine, a genderless face with "Rx" and male and female symbols for psychiatry and the behavioral sciences, a flask of ether for both biochemistry and the major advances in the medical sciences, a skull representing anatomy, a book as a source of knowledge with "DNA," the basic unit of life and "PCN" (penicillin), one of the major advances in the fight against infection.

The window also includes 3 larger panels to the right of St. Luke. The first depicts Mother Cabrini, a member of a local Chicago order of nuns who was the founder of the first Catholic hospital and a saint who dedicated her life to the sick and poor. The second features a genderless face peering into a microscope. The microscope is a symbol of pathology, microbiology, and science. The face represents a medical student in his or her quest to master disease. The third panel depicts Mother Theresa, a woman who spent her life caring for the sick and poor, holding an infant as a symbol of pediatrics.

Finally, there are a variety of other symbols in the central panel including two flowers. The pink flower on the right is foxglove, the source of digitalis. The red flower on the left is a poppy, the source of opium and morphine. The words "Primum non nocere" translate to "first do no harm," the first rule of medicine which dates back to the time of Hippocrates. "Honora medicum a Deo enim omnis medela," a quotation from the Old Testament states that one is to honor the physician because he or she derives wisdom from God. Finally, the name of "Raphael" the archangel appears in association with the winged serpent Caduceus, the guardian of science and knowledge. In Hebrew this name means "healer of God." It is also the baptismal name of Dr. Ralph P. Leischner who worked with the artist, David Lee Csicsko, in the design of this window.
