Dear Fall 2005 – Spring 2006 Alumni of the John Felice Rome Center,

We are certain that you will turn to this book often in future years as you prepare for a Rome Center reunion, get together to reminisce with former classmates, or even introduce your spouse-to-be to this special period of growth and adventure in your past. The following pages will evoke times of challenge, triumph, awe, and frustration that have contributed powerfully to the person you have become. You have been changed for good—more knowledgeable, more confident, more mature and, most of all, richer by dozens of friendships that will last a lifetime. You have dared to risk and to grow with those friends in ways that have cemented your care and respect for one another. At the same time, you have enriched the lives of the faculty and staff, for which we thank you sincerely. We hope that you soon will come back home to Rome and to the John Felice Rome Center.

Arrivederci!

The Baby Shower

When Grace Knauff arrived at the Rome Center there was something special that set her apart from her classmates, Grace was two months pregnant. Grace had an amazing semester, while gaining the support and friendship of all her JFRC classmates. In fact, her classmates threw her a beautiful babyshower!!!

"The Baby Shower"

Dear Everyone at the Rome Center,

How is Everybody? I was at JFRC on Wednesday, I thought I would tell you the details of my baby shower, which was held on October 31st. We had a wonderful turnout, with many people attending from different countries.

The event was held at our local church, and it was a beautiful celebration of life. We had a cake baked by a local baker, and we decorated it with baby-related decorations.

Many of our students helped to organize the event, and we had a wonderful time together. We were all so happy to welcome Grace into our community, and we look forward to seeing her and her baby grow up together.

Thank you all for your support and for making this event such a wonderful occasion.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

They Gawn - White Sox win it all while loyal fans study in Rome.

"The Sox winning the series was definitely bittersweet. I would have loved to be home and at the games to see it happen, but we did have a great time watching the games with each other, cheering, and sharing champagne at the end."
- Tom Farnell

"Of course I would have loved to be in Chicago for the games, but I think that we made the best out of the situation here. There was a great group of guys to watch the games with and celebrate, and we kept the Sox spirit alive, even from thousands of miles away."
- Nick Del Priore

When Adam Beattie was packing to come to Rome, he brought something with him that most people would not have. He brought Dave Arneson's MMRPG, a Massively Multiplayer Role Playing Game, Blackmoor. Blackmoor is a version of Dungeons and Dragons which was also created by Arneson. Adam recruited six people to play the game. Britton Cuffie, Trey Ridlen, Lisa Waldschmidt, Phil Cordaro, Rose Hernandez, and Lauren Girard. Each of these people then chose what race, class, age, height, weight, what weapons and special attributes they had. For instance, Lauren was a High Thoman Paladin, 18 years old, six feet tall, weighing 170 pounds with green eyes and brown hair. She also had a longsword, armor, light war horse, could detect if a person was evil, and could smite evil once a day. Britton was a "Merchant", or actually a Sorcerer, which is illegal in the world of Blackmoor. Trey was a Rogue, Lisa was a Ranger, Phil was a Monk, and Rosé was a Cleric. All had their own abilities that helped to make the group a cohesive whole, allowing them to work well together. This group was headed by Adam Beattie who acted as a kind of moderator, telling the story and filling in all the other characters along the way. He brought these people to a world away from their normal lives where helping others was their main goal in life. In Blackmoor, becoming a hero is what motivates you to overcome all the trials of life.
- contributed by Lauren Girard.
Ladies and Gentlemen, we proudly present...

Lindsey Jamieson and Basil Salem...it wouldn't be a JFRC Talent Show unless someone sang a song about life on the compound!

Pat Hicks... A True Master of Ceremonies

A Great Tradition continues as Sereen Barakt, Laura Anderson, Allison Costa, Denisa Fenfello, Leslee Heinlen, and Salma Baida mesmerize the crowd with their belly dancing!

Rose Hernandez fulfills a semester long wish of throwing something in Todd's face!

Lorna Riggle shows that size isn't what matters most, Not even close!

The TALENT SHOW

Liz Hoelscher and Robyn Rassell show the audience how NOT to travel, especially via flying RyanAir!

Nidhi Soni dazzles the crowd with some traditional Indian Dance.

The JFRC Choir, led by Dr. Edwards, puts the final touches on the evening and proves that we are indeed all in a "Roma State of Mind!"

SLA Mike demonstrates one of his many talents as he tickles some ivory!
There is a place called the JFRC
We call it the compound
And we live and we sleep, we study and eat
And now I just wanna get out

There is a place called the Mensa
We eat there twice a day
They serve us our food and we say “grazie”
And then our stomachs pay

There is a place called Rinaldo’s
It’s where we drink café
We can play ping pong or fussball
And see Nella and Rinaldo everyday

There is a man named Todd Waller
He is the Associate Dean
He screams and he scowls, does he have too much power?
He’s the head of a murderous regime

There is a place called the JFRC
The hallways smell like bleach
But that’s okay, it’s where we stay
And now we don’t wanna leave

Ci siamo divertiti. Stiate bene fino a quando ci incontriamo di nuovo. Ciao!
John Felice was born on the tiny, historic island of Malta in 1923. At 82 years young, after two open heart surgeries and three pacemaker implants, he is still active and has become a legend among those who know him. Founder of the John Felice Rome Center and its principal force for many years, he retired in 1998 at the age of 75. Felice readily remembers his childhood in Malta as a mischievous child known very affectionately as “a little devil”. With the declaration of World War II and not yet 18, Felice enlisted in the British Armed Forces. Malta was heavily bombarded, which caused tremendous destruction and loss of life. To escape, many people took refuge underground for long periods of time without the basic necessities of life. When the American forces came to the Mediterranean, Felice was transferred to General Patton's headquarters and later participated in the North African campaign and the invasion of Sicily. It was then that he first came into contact with Americans who were serving under General Patton. He remembers their keen interest and desire to learn as much as possible about the art and history of the Mediterranean world, since the United States was still a new country with a relatively short history. It was then that he first felt called to work with young people to develop these interests and foster a deeper friendship and appreciation between them and his native Europe. This, he thought, would be the best way to thank the Americans for the help they were giving Europe in its quest for freedom and liberty.

After the war ended, Felice joined the Society of Jesus and was ordained in the United States. Destiny favored him in 1958, when he began teaching at Loyola University Chicago. Within two years, in 1960, he took his first group of young Americans for a six-week bus tour of Europe. The following summer 68 young teachers from the Chicago area participated in a two month tour of Europe designed to compare educational systems. They visited eight major universities in Europe as well as the major capitals. On this tour he discussed and developed the idea of an American university campus in Rome, Italy. During a meeting with the President of Italy and the American Ambassador, Clare Boothe Luce, he proposed the idea, which was greeted with much enthusiasm and support from both the President and the Ambassador. Loyola's President, Father James Maguire, SJ, also an enthusiastic supporter, insisted that the pioneer group have at least 60 students to start out. The Rome Center, the first overseas program of its kind in that era, opened its doors to 90 students in January 1962, and Felice began his lifelong career and mission of guiding and shaping the futures of many young adults - turning them into broad-minded men and women willing, in turn, to lead, shape and serve society. Today, 44 years later, he is still an enthusiastic presence on campus, well-loved by the student body, always willing to share stories and help young people better understand the world in which they live.

"In a frantic search to find accommodations for my brother during his first European experience, I ran into John Felice one morning and started a conversation. When I mentioned my situation, he immediately took me in his car to some of his many friends in the area. Within twenty minutes of telling Sig, Felice my dilemma he had gotten my brother a room in the nicest Bed & Breakfast I have seen in Europe. It is because of things like this that everyone I have ever spoken with in regards to John Felice always breaks into the widest smile possible."

- Michael Kasang

Travels with Dr. Nicholson

Beth Blanchard, Julia Larkin, Hilary Shaffer and Emily Vanney with some nice footwork.

Katie Manning, Jamie Bowen, Will Hunt, Lindsey, and Sebastiano Escobar check out one of the preserved bodies in Pompeii.

Lindsay Virost, Olenka Waite-Wright, Caitlyn Padula, Tara Becker, Bryan McCutcheon, Sarah Zdankiewicz in Pompeii.

Jolanta Dzadkowiec, Laura Batty, Priscilla Koeppke, Weronika Walzack, Siena Bendixen-Park and Colleen Kiphart duke it out in the amphitheatre.

Will Hunt, Brendan Dowd & Colin Hogan listen as Dr. Nicholson explains Pompeii’s history.

It’s true... Julia Larkin, Emily Vanney and Hilary Shaffer actually paid to have these pigeons attack them.

Bryan McCutcheon, Olenka Waite-Wright and Joe LeBlanc.

Dr. Edwards gives some history about San Marco to Princess Fouch, Andrea Palombella, Molly Pagano, Kara Schiemeyer, Elise Spadavecchio, Sarah Craft, Bryan McCutcheon, Joe LeBlanc, Maggie Boryczko, Anna Rozner, Michelle Eaton and Jolanta Lipka.

Olenka Waite-Wright and Lindsay Virost do some window shopping for some famous Venetian Glass.

Can you believe they actually let Sarah Craft drive a boat?!

Taylor Graham, Nick Scalzitti, Mary Ondrusek and Sarah Koehler show off their USA pride with a fellow American on the streets of Torino.

Brendan O’Sullivan & Sebastiano Escobar make some Slovakian friends while some of the JFRC ladies cheer on the red, white & blue below.

ABRUZZO & MOLISE

The group prepares for a snowball fight for the ages.

Pat Coogan, Dr. Jim Schwarten, Kat Rainbow, Julia Larkin, Emily Vanney, Pam Kaput, Joe LeBlanc, Megan Eckerle, Mike Wolff, Princess Fouch, Sarah Craft, Ezekia the Nature Guide, SLA Mike Beazley, Bryan McCutcheon and Megan Reddy fanno una pausa at the ruins of a 12th Century castle in Pescasseroli.

Bryan McCutcheon tackles girls... hard. Emily Vanney feels his wrath while Julia Larkin looks on helplessly.

Mike “l’ottimo lupo” Wolff scouts the hills of Pescasseroli.
Spring Break 2006: Tunisia

SLA Carla Gini & SLA Cat Rabenstine are loving some camelback riding.

The JFRC caravan is off. Jolanta Dzadkowiec and Danielle Castaneda lead the group.

TODD? NO CLIMBING ON THE RUINS!

SLA Cat Rabenstine

Any guesses as to how much this handful of dinars is worth in Euro?

Christina Gebel, Miko Marthaler, Brittany Head, Kara Schiemeyer, Caitlyn Padula, Pam Kaput and Catie Sweeney doing a dance line during a wild desert night.

Molly Fleming, Ashley Williamson, and Brian McCutcheon defy gravity in the Desert.

The Vagina Monologues

February 14th, V-Day. A group of JFRC women took part in a stellar performance of "The Vagina Monologues." They raised money for a women's & children's shelter in Rome. At a second performance in the semester, the ladies performed in a local Roman theatre.

Performers Colleen Boucher, Dana Dallavalle, Claire Schuh, and Corrinna Ortega await their turns to perform.

Carla Mollica, SLA Liz Platt, Lauren Messineo and Julia Larkin perform in Rinaldo's.

Allison Renth makes known her status as a Vagina Warrior!

About V-Day

V-Day, a non-profit corporation, distributes funds to grassroots, national, and international organizations and programs that work to stop violence against women and girls.

V-Day is a global movement to stop violence against women and girls. V-Day is a catalyst that promotes creative events to increase awareness, raise money and revitalize the spirit of existing anti-violence organizations. V-Day generates broader attention for the fight to stop violence against women and girls, including rape, battery, incest, female genital mutilation (FGM) and sexual slavery.

The best imitation of the night went to Christina Gebel, who turned out a GREAT Todd Waller impression!

The Talent Show

The Hip Hop Class Performs for the JFRC. The group was coached and led by Julie Mason and Angelina Gonzales!

Pat Feders, Maria Krupicz, and Mary Ondruscek give the audience of taste of what it's like to experience class with Dr. Lodici, accent and all!

Peter Hamel does a little stand up routine to get the crowd going!

Caitlin Padula, Katie Sucher, Molly Fleming, Olenka Waite-Wright, and Ashley Williamson, show the SLA's a bit of love with some well executed imitations and a song.

Princess Fouch, Amy Gillespie, Katy Snell.
