May I say that I have loved me one or two
Of the people in my past
Fading faces in a waking dream
And though they never seemed to last very long
There are faces I remember
From the places in my past

I said all the dead head miles
And the insincere smiles
Sometimes I can laugh and cry
And I can’t remember why
But I still love those good times gone by Hold on to them close or let them go
I don’t know I just seem to sing these songs
And say I’m sorry for the friends I used to know
We are riding on a railroad singing someone else's song
We are standing by the crossroads take a side and step along
We are sailing away on a river to the sea
Maybe you and me will meet again
We are riding on a railroad singing someone else's song
Sing along

Time to time I tire of the life that I've been leading Town to town and day by day
There is a man up here who claims to have his hands
Upon the reins
There are chains upon his hands and he's riding on a train

The great cabin has been changed into many private sitting rooms. This means the right place for the right person to the satisfaction of everybody:

a) for the smoker who is fond of music and movies;
b) for the passenger who does not smoke and is fond of music only;
c) for the smoker who is fond of music only;
d) for the one who does not smoke but is fond of music and movies.

This ain’t no reflection in a bubble of dreams

THIS IS REALLY IT!
